“Memories!! Oh, the Thompson, Flooding and Soderholm kids were inseparable in the summer when we were growing up back in the 60's! What didn't we do together?? I remember cramming all of us into my dad's wooden fishing boat and spending the whole day fishing. Then Kenny Soderholm fried up the fish and we all got together for a three family fish fry that evening. Watching fireworks from the pipeline tanks where Clay Thompson worked, playing cards and Rummy Royal on our porch on rainy summer days or reading comic books from that huge cardboard box of comic books that kept us all busy. We played yard games like "Moonlight, Starlight," kickball, and badminton, and water games, too, in Lake Carlos where we swam as often as we could. Then we all got involved in the TRA Water Ski Show, if only as a fan. Everybody knew everybody else's family so the fun doubled when cousins like the MacArthurs visited. Those were the days!! Greg was so much a part of all of our fun back then and even though we've grown up and grown apart we will always have memories like these.
