Sandy had a kind, gentle and loving spirit yet was strong with generous compassion, unselfish love and full of energy. Sandy's commitment to her husband and love for her family was incredible. Although she had the opportunity to visit many places, she truly loved the majestic beauty of Glacier National Park. Her favorite trail was the Highline which she last hiked in August along with her family after lunch at the top of Logan Pass on the Hidden Lake Trail. Pat and Sandy were avid skiers on The Big Mountain and loved cross-country skiing at the Whitefish Lake Golf Course and Glacier Park. Sandy's zest for life and spirit of joy was amazing.
